The new cost structure will be effective as soon as licenses for the coming year go on sale.

A second resolution calls for an improved system in filling out charge slips relative to purchase of gasoline and oil for county vehicles. The new procedure will become effective Dec. 1.

Pappaspiros, the government candidate, won office 149 to 143. Five deputies cast blank ballots in the secret vote. Three were absent.

Judge Blames Parents For Kids' Wild Party

CLEVELAND (AP)—It was a ring-a-ding-dong house party that cost $2,000 in damages. Then the party goers and parents showed up in court.

"I should have you people charged with neglect," Juvenile Court Judge Walter G. Whitlatch told the parents of a 17-year-old Parma girl Monday.

The judge was told that the girl pouted because she was taken with the family on a previous camping trip, so she was left home when the family went again on the next outing. She decided to throw a weekend party—with these results:

—Every drawer and cabinet from the basement to the attic, including the freezer, was ransacked.

—Three pistols and 6,000 bullets were stolen. One shot ripped through the living room wall.

—One teen-ager was nearly shot during a struggle for the pistol, which belongs to the girl's father.

—Coin collections were stolen and carpets burned by cigarettes.

For an encore, some of the youngsters thought it might be a good idea to conceal the damage by burning the house down, the judge was told.

When the Friday to Sunday party was almost over, the girl told her guests they could help themselves to anything in the house because she was leaving town. Parma police found her three days later.

The parents said in court that insurance covered only $1,180 of the loss. The judge said they were as much to blame for the incident as any of the youngsters.

Then he found out they went on another camping trip the week after the party because they knew the girl would be in the juvenile detention home.

He told the parents their actions were "reprehensible."

"Don't expect any compensation from the families of these boys. It is your fault," the judge said.

Two boys were sent back to Fairfield School for Boys in Lancaster as parole violators. Two others were fined $50 and placed on probation.

Seven older teen-agers are scheduled for a hearing in Parma Municipal Court. The girl was judged delinquent and placed on probation.

U.S. Troops Throw Back New Assaults

IA DRANG VALLEY, South Viet Nam (AP) — Men of the U.S. 1st Air Cavalry Division, holding their ground in the biggest battle American troops have fought in Viet Nam, threw back two new assaults today by North Vietnamese regulars from hillside entrenchments above them.

A military spokesman said 869 Communist have now been killed, and confirmed by body count, in the savage struggle of the last three days in the central highlands near the Cambodian frontier. American losses were reported to remain moderate.

Dug in around a helicopter landing zone in the Ia Drang Valley, the troops were expecting another attack.

The North Vietnamese have the advantage because they hold the high ground — a chain of mountains that stretches into neutralist Cambodia, six miles away. The Communists have been digging in across these mountains for years and know them intimately.

Intelligence officers said there are possibly four or five regiments from the 235th North Vietnamese division in the mountains. They originally had believed the division to be the 304th.

In the air war, two Communist MIG fighters fired on two unarmed U.S. photo-reconnaissance planes over North Viet Nam. The American planes escaped unharmed.

About 500 North Vietnamese resumed the attack on the 1st Cavalry troops in the Ia Drang Valley about 4 a.m. This attack tapered off at dawn, but three hours later about 600 North Vietnamese launched a coordinated attack against two U.S. units.

Two Red companies came at the Americans from one direction, while two others struck from another. Once again the Reds were driven back. Twenty-four enemy snipers infiltrated the cavalrymen's defense perimeter, but most of them were killed.

3 College Freshmen Get Sentences in Pen

PORTALES, N.M. (AP) — Three Eastern New Mexico University freshmen have been sentenced to a 15-day indoctrination term at the New Mexico Penitentiary.

Dist. Court Judge E. T. Hensley Jr. said Monday he had suspended 1½ months of the minimum one-year term for automobile theft in hope the two-week quarantine period at the prison "might do a young man some good."

The youths will be on probation after their stay at the prison.

More and More Folks Are Playing Santa to U.S. Troops in Viet Nam

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Playing Santa Claus to American troops in Viet Nam is drawing more and more college students, just plain folks and now the Air National Guard.

Thousands of persons are collecting gifts and goodies and messages of encouragement to send to servicemen in Viet Nam.

A doctor and his wife have collected an estimated 150,000 messages in Philadelphia. Students at Pepperdine College and other Southern California schools are packing 1,500 boxes of Thanksgiving goodies. The Tennessee Air National Guard is preparing to fly mail and Christmas gifts to GI's in the war zone.

Last month Dr. and Mrs. Richard P. Ornstein of suburban Gladwyne, near Philadelphia, started "Mail Call Viet Nam." It wasn't long before they needed the services of hundreds of volunteers to help screen and package the greetings.

The messages, packed in 290 cartons, are expected to arrive in Saigon Friday morning.

Ornstein said he decided to send the mail by commercial airlines today because of delays in getting space aboard military transportation.

"The Defense Department has many other priorities and we couldn't take a chance of letting the men down," Ornstein said. "We want them to be assured of the pride and respect of their countrymen."

The U.S. Marine Corps has promised to transport the treats collected by the Pepperdine students. And the students are negotiating — right up to President Johnson — for some of them to go along to present the gifts personally.

The students have keyed the project to Thanksgiving and call it "Operation Thanks." Codirectors Dave Balsiger and Mike Maier said they got the idea when they heard of draft-card burning and anti-Viet Nam demonstrations.

About 1,000 Pepperdine students signed a 45-foot-long letter to Lt. Gen. V. H. Krulak in Hawaii, commander of the Marines in Viet Nam. Each signer contributed money to buy treats.

Meeting Set Thursday for Berger Study

Financial problems of Berger Hospital will come under additional study when local government officials meet here Thursday.

Seeking a solution will be members of Berger's Board of Governors, the Pickaway County Board of Commissioners and members of City Council. The session will start at 8 p. m. in the Common Pleas Courtroom.

Initial attention will be devoted to ways and means of keeping the hospital's Emergency Room from closing on Dec. 1, an alternative the Berger Board has announced will be necessary unless additional operating funds are made available. The governors also have indicated the Maternity Wing will be closed in the future if the financial picture does not improve.

The meeting has been called by Mayor Ben H. Gordon, in coordination with City Council, the County Commission and the Berger Board. The possibility of losing emergency facilities has been termed "serious" by spokesmen from all three governing bodies.

The hospital currently is handicapped with a deficit of about $35,000 in the general fund. A half-mill operating levy was defeated at the Nov. 2 election. Previous requests for assistance from the city and county resulted in replies that none was available.

Boston Gang War Claims 28th Victim

BOSTON (AP) — The Greater Boston gang war has claimed three victims in the bloodiest single day of the 20-month-old vendetta.

The bodies of victim Nos. 27 and 28 were found shot to death Monday night in the Mickey Mouse Cafe at nearby Revere Beach.

They were Raymond Distasio, 35, of Medford, the cafe's daytime bartender, and John B. O'Neill, 26, of Revere, a customer who lived nearby.

Earlier in the day, the body of ex-convict Robert A. Palladino, 34, of Winchester, was found beneath an elevated highway near Boston Garden.

All three had been shot in the back of the head. Police believe all the deaths are links in an endless chain of revenge killings between rival gangs of petty hoodlums.

Vatican Council Shuns Rap Against Communism

VATICAN CITY (AP) — The Vatican Ecumenical Council today rebuffed a conservative demand that it denounce communism. Then it approved a strong statement against racial discrimination and accepted a declaration on birth control.

The three votes were on sections of the council's modern world problems schema now under scrutiny in the assembly in St. Peter's Basilica.

More than two-thirds of the council fathers voted approval of the schema chapter on atheism in its current form, which does not specifically mention communism. This majority was big enough to block a last-minute conservative effort to insert a detailed denunciation of communism by name.

The document's section on racial discrimination was adopted by a vote of 2,015 to 35. This section recently was strengthened to say that all forms of discrimination must be "crushed and removed."

Birth control is treated in two sections, one on conjugal love and another on fecundity of marriage. The first section was approved by 2,052 to 91. The second was accepted by 2,011 to 140.

The document discusses birth control in a general way, leaving responsibility for family planning to the couples themselves. But it states that in deciding to limit the number of children, Roman Catholic couples must not use means forbidden by the Church.

While affirming the right of couples to decide the size of their families, the document is not viewed as a definitive answer to the birth control questions in the minds of millions of Roman Catholics. The answers to those questions, including the use of contraceptives, are expected to come from Pope Paul VI. He has assigned a special commission to study the questions.

Polar Jet Runs Behind On Schedule

BUENOS AIRES, Argentine (AP)—A scientific flight circling the world over the North and South poles was reported five hours behind schedule today on this flight toward the South Pole.

The reason for the delay was not known here.

The control tower at Buenos Aires' International Airport said the plane, with 45 scientists and others on board, had reported in to Recife, Brazil, at 8:50 a.m. on its flight from London to Buenos Aires.

The plane left from California Sunday and flew to Honolulu for the hop over the North Pole to London. After Buenos Aires, the 707 Boeing jet will fly over the South Pole to Christchurch, New Zealand. It then returns to Honolulu and Burbank, Calif.

U.S. To Keep Cong on Run

Foe Expected To 'Wear Out'

WASHINGTON (AP) — The U.S. aim in pouring more and more fighting men and equipment into South Viet Nam is to raise the tempo of attack to such a level that the Communists will be put on the run and ultimately worn out, says a Pentagon official.

This outline of U.S. strategy is clear from statements made Monday night by one of the top military planners for the Joint Chiefs of Staff.

"Our objective is to keep the combat tempo at such a rate that the Viet Cong will be unable to recuperate," said Army Lt. Gen. B. E. Spivy in a Chicago speech.

"We want to get and keep them on the run," Spivy said. "In guerrilla warfare, once the guerrillas are on the run, they are likely to run downhill toward military ineffectiveness and defeat."

This is the same strategy which was used by the Filipinos, with American advice, against the Communist Hukbs and by the British Commonwealth forces against the Reds in Malaya years ago.

The three-star general, director of plans and policy for the Joint Chiefs of Staff, said that "we are doing better, considerably better than a few months ago when the situation was close to critical."

In essence, Spivy said, "We are holding our own and a bit more, but the Communists are not yet on the run."

While voicing confidence that the United States and the South Vietnamese can win this war, Spivy said this outcome will hinge on unflinching efforts "for a considerable time to come." He shied away making any time prediction.

Resins Plant Will Cover Ten Acres

Pittsburgh Plate Glass Company's coatings and resins division today announced plans to build a multi-million dollar plant at its Circleville site for the production of resins used in rigid polyurethane foams.

Site preparation for the new facility, south of Circleville, is already underway. Production is scheduled in about 12 months.

The new manufacturing unit will cover approximately 10 acres at the division's central resins complex just off Route 23.

The new unit will include a two-story warehouse and processing building. Chemical reactors and some of the processing equipment will be outdoors.

PPG has been active for many years in developing and marketing this type of resin, according to Guy J. Berghoff, vice president and general manager of the division. He said that the new plant will enable the company to expand its position as a supplier to the rapidly growing rigid polyurethane foam market.

U.S. Confirms Snub of '64 Peace Talks

WASHINGTON (AP) — The State Department confirmed today that U.N. Secretary-General U Thant sent word in the fall of 1964 that North Viet Nam was willing to enter into talks with the United States at Rangoon, Burma.

The United States rejected the offer, a State Department spokesman said, because "all our indications were that there was no serious intent on the other side."

Press officer Robert J. McCloskey also told a news conference that Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara did not join in making the decision against talks at that time. He said McNamara may have expressed some opinion but did not take part in the decision making.

Eric Sevareid, radio and television commentator, wrote in an article published in Look magazine he was informed of the 1964 situation by the late U.N. Ambassador Adlai Stevenson.

Meeting Set Thursday for Berger Study

Financial problems of Berger Hospital will come under additional study when local governing officials meet here Thursday.

Seeking a solution will be members of Berger's Board of Governors, the Pickaway County Board of Commissioners and members of City Council. The session will start at 8 p. m. in the Common Pleas Courtroom.

Initial attention will be devoted to ways and means of keeping the hospital's Emergency Room from closing on Dec. 1, an alternative the Berger Board has announced will be necessary unless additional operating funds are made available. The governors also have indicated the Maternity Wing will be closed in the future if the financial picture does not improve.

Vatican Council Shuns Rap Against Communism

VATICAN CITY (AP) — The Vatican Ecumenical Council today rebuffed a conservative demand that it denounce communism. Then it approved a strong statement against racial discrimination and accepted a declaration on birth control.

The three votes were on sections of the council's modern world problems schema now under scrutiny in the assembly in St. Peter's Basilica.

More than two-thirds of the council fathers voted approval of the schema chapter on atheism in its current form, which does not specifically mention communism. This majority was big enough to block a last-minute conservative effort to insert a detailed denunciation of communism by name.

The document's section on racial discrimination was adopted by a vote of 2,015 to 35. This section recently was strengthened to say that all forms of discrimination must be "crushed and removed."

Birth control is treated in two sections, one on conjugal love and another on fecundity of marriage. The first section was approved by 2,052 to 91. The second was accepted by 2,011 to 140.

The document discusses birth control in a general way, leaving responsibility for family planning to the couples themselves. But it states that in deciding to limit the number of children, Roman Catholic couples must not use means forbidden by the Church.

While affirming the right of couples to decide the size of their families, the document is not viewed as a definitive answer to the birth control questions in the minds of millions of Roman Catholics. The answers to those questions, including the use of contraceptives, are expected to come from Pope Paul VI. He has assigned a special commission to study the questions.

The Ft. Gordon information officer, Capt. Wallace Hitchcock, relayed this medical bulletin from the doctors' spokesman, Dr. Thomas W. Mattingly, late Monday afternoon:

"Gen. Eisenhower is still resting comfortably and doctors continue to express pleasure at the progress made by the five-star general.

"Again this afternoon the famous patient spent the hours reading, listening to stereophonic music and chatting with members of his personal staff. As yet he has not been out of bed."

While doctors refuse to say whether any plans have been made to move the general to Walter Reed Army Hospital in Washington, Eisenhower's son, John, who now lives in Phoenixville, Pa., said before his departure for home Sunday night he hoped he could spend Thanksgiving with his father in Washington.

Closed Bank Turned into Frisco Bar

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Belly right up to the teller's window, folks, and put down your money. What you'll get back will be a drink, not a receipt.

Kelly Buchanan, a real estate man, opened a new bar Monday in the branch office of the now defunct San Francisco National Bank.

He didn't make many changes. Remaining from the bank are a $7,000 chandelier and a $14,000 panel. Also around are red velvet sofas and leather ash trays from another branch of the doomed bank. Drinks are served through the teller's windows.

The U.S. controller of currency closed the bank. Don C. Silverthorne, who founded the bank in 1962, was charged with misapplying its funds and accepting fees illegally for arranging loans.

U.S. To Keep Cong on Run

Foe Expected To 'Wear Out'

WASHINGTON (AP) — The U.S. aim in pouring more and more fighting men and equipment into South Viet Nam is to raise the tempo of attack to such a level that the Communists will be put on the run and ultimately worn out, says a Pentagon official.

This outline of U.S. strategy is clear from statements made Monday night by one of the top military planners for the Joint Chiefs of Staff.

"Our objective is to keep the combat tempo at such a rate that the Viet Cong will be unable to recuperate," said Army Lt. Gen. B. E. Spivy in a Chicago speech.

"We want to get and keep them on the run," Spivy said. "In guerrilla warfare, once the guerrillas are on the run, they are likely to run downhill toward military ineffectiveness and defeat."

This is the same strategy which was used by the Filipinos, with American advice, against the Communist Hukbs and by the British Commonwealth forces against the Reds in Malaya years ago.

The three-star general, director of plans and policy for the Joint Chiefs of Staff, said that "we are doing better, considerably better than a few months ago when the situation was close to critical."

In essence, Spivy said, "We are holding our own and a bit more, but the Communists are not yet on the run."

While voicing confidence that the United States and the South Vietnamese can win this war, Spivy said this outcome will hinge on unflinching efforts "for a considerable time to come." He shied away making any time prediction.

U.S. Troops

U.S. fighter-bombers pounded the Reds without letup, but the Communists showed no sign of retreating. They were dug in on a 1,700-foot hill overlooking the valley.

"The terrain is their own and is favorable to their defense, a U.S. spokesman said.

Several thousand American troops are battling an enemy regiment of about 1,500 men for control of the valley. The Communists apparently have not been reinforced since they first attacked Sunday.

Senior U.S. commanders say that U.S. and Vietnamese forces may have killed more than 1,200 Communist troops in the area near the Cambodian border since the Reds laid siege to the Special Forces camp at Plei Me Oct. 19. The camp is about 12 miles east of the Ia Drang Valley and 220 miles northeast of Saigon.

The Plei Me camp is a threat to a major supply route from North Viet Nam through Laos and Cambodia.

American casualties today were extremely light, in contrast with heavy losses Monday and Sunday. The brunt of the new attack was borne by one company of the 2nd Battalion of the 1st Cavalry's 7th Regiment. It had only six wounded in the action.

"They're coming, can I fire?" Lt. William Sisson of New York shouted into his radio after he spotted Communist troops racing toward his position.

"His company opened fire with a wall of steel," said company commander Capt. Myron Didurk of Somerville, N.J.

The Communists kept coming in waves that lasted about 10 minutes at a time, Didurk said.

When an American platoon attempted to penetrate the surrounding jungle, several wounded North Vietnamese fired on them.

Artillery and air strikes were brought to within 50-100 yards of the forward position. These killed off the few Communists who were left in the open.

The American troops have been defending a circular, lightly jungled area only 500 yards in diameter since they moved into the valley by helicopters Sunday.

There has been virtually no attempt to enlarge the ground the Americans control.

There also has been no attempt to determine the effects of the B52 raids Monday against suspected Communist concentrations several miles from the battle area.

U.S. Navy and Air Force planes hammered a 1,700-foot-high hill overlooking the valley.

In the air war, two Communist jets — apparently MIGs — tried to attack two U.S. Air Force photo-reconnaissance planes over North Viet Nam Monday, but the American pilots escaped.

It was the first report of Communist aircraft sighted over North Viet Nam since last summer.

4th Suspect In Burglary Is Arrested

A fourth person involved in an alleged burglary Sunday night at Sprouse's Store in Commercial Point has been apprehended by Pickaway County Deputy Sheriff George Linder.

He was identified as Charles R. Siders, 18, Ashville.

Sheriff Dwight Radcliff said the quartet apprehended may have been involved in other burglaries in the area.

He noted that two of them admitted to an earlier burglary at Sprouse's Store. Radios taken at that time have already been recovered.

THE TWO men arrested yesterday were Kenneth Siders, 22, and Carl D. Ferrin Jr., 21. A juvenile also was involved.

Charges will be lodged against the men in Circleville Municipal Court today, the sheriff indicated.

U.S. Troops

U.S. fighter-bombers pounded the Reds without letup, but the Communists showed no sign of retreating. They were dug in on a 1,700-foot hill overlooking the valley.

"The terrain is their own and is favorable to their defense," a U.S. spokesman said.

Several thousand American troops are battling an enemy regiment of about 1,500 men for control of the valley. The Communists apparently have not been reinforced since they first attacked Sunday.

Senior U.S. commanders say that U.S. and Vietnamese forces may have killed more than 1,200 Communist troops in the area near the Cambodian border since the Reds laid siege to the Special Forces camp at Plei Me Oct. 19. The camp is about 12 miles east of the Ia Drang Valley and 220 miles northeast of Saigon.

The Plei Me camp is a threat to a major supply route from North Viet Nam through Laos and Cambodia.

American casualties today were extremely light, in contrast with heavy losses Monday and Sunday. The brunt of the new attack was borne by one company of the 2nd Battalion of the 1st Cavalry's 7th Regiment. It had only six wounded in the action.

"They're coming, can I fire?" Lt. William Sisson of New York shouted into his radio after he spotted Communist troops racing toward his position.

His company opened fire with "a wall of steel," said company commander Capt. Myron Diduryk of Somerville, N.J.

The Communists kept coming in waves that lasted about 10 minutes at a time, Diduryk said.

When an American platoon attempted to penetrate the surrounding jungle, several wounded North Vietnamese fired on them.

Artillery and air strikes were brought to within 50-100 yards of the forward position. These killed off the few Communists who were left in the open.

The American troops have been defending a circular, lightly jungled area only 500 yards in diameter since they moved into the valley by helicopters Sunday.

There has been virtually no attempt to enlarge the ground the Americans control.

There also has been no attempt to determine the effects of the B52 raids Monday against suspected Communist concentrations several miles from the battle area.

U.S. Navy and Air Force planes hammered a 1,700-foot-high hill overlooking the valley.

In the air war, two Communist jets — apparently MIGs — tried to attack two U.S. Air Force photo-reconnaissance planes over North Viet Nam Monday. A U.S. spokesman reported, but the American pilots escaped.

It was the first report of Communist aircraft sighted over North Viet Nam since last summer.

of spray foam systems there is every reason to believe that spray foam will share in the construction market. The leading non-insulating foam application is its use as a void filling material in boat buoyancy chambers.

PPG completed the first unit of its central resins facility at Circleville in 1963. Resin lines now being produced include: Duracron and Duracryl acrylic resins, melamine and urea type resins, selectron polyester resins, polyvinyl acetate emulsion and alkyd resins.

Synthetic resins form the basis for the production of coatings, plastics and foams. They are the most important single ingredient in these products. Since the resins are tailored or produced according to exact laboratory specifications, the finished products can be regulated as to property, cost, durability and hardness.

Prosecutor Still Claims Dr. Sam Got a Fair Trial

CLEVELAND (AP) — Dr. Samuel Sheppard's second-degree murder conviction will be reviewed by the U. S. Supreme Court for the first time.

Cuyahoga County Prosecutor John T. Corrigan said Monday he still thinks Sheppard got a fair trial.

The Supreme Court decided Monday to accept Sheppard's latest appeal for review. The former osteopath contends that publicity made it impossible to impanel a fair and impartial jury. In 1956 the high court refused to review the conviction.

Sheppard was convicted in 1954 for the bludgeoning slaying of his first wife, Marilyn, in their suburban Bay Village home.

"The fact that the U. S. Supreme Court has ruled merely to review the appeal does not lessen my conviction that Sheppard did get a fair trial," Corrigan said.

The Supreme Court will have 900 pages of records to review, then could decide to:

— Uphold the appeal, which would give Sheppard another trial in Cuyahoga County Common Pleas Court.

— Reverse a decision by U.S. District Judge Carl A. Weinman of Dayton, which would block any further action to free Sheppard.

Judge Weinman ruled Sheppard did not receive a fair trial and freed him July 16, 1964, from Ohio Penitentiary. Sheppard had been sentenced to life.

Sheppard, free on $10,000 bond, is willing to stand trial again.

"Retry me," he said Monday. "I'm ready now. I have absolute proof of my innocence." He did not elaborate.

Sheppard and his second wife, Arianne, whom he married two days after his release from prison, said "We're hopeful. We know we're right."

After Judge Weinman freed Sheppard, the 6th U. S. Circuit Court of Appeals in Cincinnati reversed the decision and ordered him back to prison.

Then Sheppard's attorneys went to the high court again.

The Sheppards now live in suburban Rocky River.

Sheppard has maintained that a bushy-haired intruder killed his first wife, who was pregnant, by beating her with a blunt instrument. No weapon was ever found.

Cat Fancier Urges Feline Birth Control

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — The president of the Cat Fanciers' Association, herself the owner of 23 cats, favors feline birth control.

"All cats that go into animal shelters should be spayed or neutered before they are given out to new homes," says Mrs. Jon Bloem of Des Moines, Iowa.

She contends birth control is needed to cut down the 28 million nonpedigreed cats in the United States.

WASHINGTON (AP) — It's more than just a wild and woolly time. It's a hodge-podge, left and right.

"Real squares. Old ladies up in the Bronx."

That's what some young radicals today call members of the American Communist party. The weekly newspaper, the National Observer, which quoted them, said they are equally contemptuous of liberals and labor unions.

But Monday the party thought it got a shot in the arm and talked of running candidates for office. But George Lincoln Rackwell, commander of the American Nazi party, has already said he will run for president in 1972.

The Ku Klux Klan is in business. The ultraconservative Minutemen talk of their secret "underground army."

Robert Welch, founder of the right-wing John Birch Society, says of the United States: "It's 'one vast insane asylum' where 'they've let out the worst patients to run the place.'"

The Communist party has splinter groups. Student groups have splinter groups. Even the Republican party has splinters.

But long after thousands of today's young radicals sag into middle age, raising families and buying homes between trips to the bank, the Communist party will probably be still here.

At least it has an ideology, although it changes with the wind, while many and probably most of the young radicals have only upset emotions and incoherence.

FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover considers the Communist party a "Moscow-controlled" menace and part of an international Communist conspiracy. He called Gus Hall, the party's chief spokesman, "Moscow-trained."

It was Hall who Monday, after a Supreme Court decision, got the idea that now the party could run candidates, although its claimed membership has dropped from perhaps 100,000 in the 1930s to 10,000 now.

The court held unconstitutional a provision requiring a party member to register as such with the federal government.

This was the reasoning: For failure to register he could be prosecuted and jailed. But if he did register, he could be prosecuted under another law which makes it a crime to belong to a group that advocates overthrowing the government.

Thus, if he registered, he would be risking incriminating himself under the other law.

The court pointed out that under the Constitution's Fifth Amendment a man can't be compelled to incriminate himself.

In the 1930s — although the Communist party's part in it was very small — the great domestic crusade was to organize workers into unions. They joined in the millions.

Earlier this month, in a special story on the radical left among the young, the New York Times, picking out the Students for a Democratic Society as the "largest single radical student group on or around campuses," said that the SDS had "pretty much given up the working class as lost, having fallen prey to the union and the Democratic party." The Times says SDS claims 3,000 members, with 90 chapters around the country.

The National Observer, not limiting itself to student groups, said the new left places less emphasis on economic problems, more on "human freedom," and only a few splinter groups try to "out-Mao Mao Tze-tung."

Yet, the newspaper went on, "even a tiny splinter group possesses the capacity for mischief if it also possesses dynamite." Some groups are on a crusade against poverty and the war in Viet Nam.

FBI's Hoover says "the Communist party is today expending tremendous energy attempting to increase its influence among college students."

Byrd Jr. To Be Like Dad On Fiscal Responsibility

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Harry F. Byrd Jr. is demanding the same kind of fiscal responsibility his father advocated as the price of cooperation with President Johnson.

Congratulating the 50-year-old Virginia Democrat on his appointment to fill the seat Sen. Harry F. Byrd, 78, resigned last Thursday, Johnson said in a telegram he wants to work closely with the new senator.

On this score, Byrd made it plain he will apply as his father did before him the yardstick of how much Johnson's programs will cost and how they will be paid for.

The younger Byrd said Johnson has his support in the course the President is pursuing in the Viet Nam war. But on the domestic front, the new senator said he will examine each White House legislative proposal on its merits but will not be committed in advance to blanket opposition to the "Great Society" programs.

The elder Byrd, who sat beaming as his senatorial successor son was interviewed Sunday at Rosemont, the family home in Berryville, Va., has gone down the line in opposition to practically all of the social welfare legislation Johnson has sponsored.

The junior Byrd made it clear that while he expects to follow the course hewed out by his father in 32 years in the Senate, he regards himself as a forward-looking conservative in tune with the changing times and conditions.

Byrd will be running in the Virginia primary next July not only on the Byrd name but on the record he hopes to make in six months as a senator.

"My father has made his record; now I must make mine," he said.

"I feel that legislators, like businessmen and individual citizens, must continuously look forward — as times and conditions change. I would like to consider myself as a progressive in the sense that it is important to continue to look forward in order to serve the best interests of all the people. There are certain fundamentals that can't change — the constitutional concepts of government, and I feel that true progress can only be made through fiscal responsibility."

Reverse Trickle

Although the $10 million in gold gained by the United States in September was small, it was nonetheless gratifying because it reversed monthly losses that had gone uninterrupted since Aug. 1964. The drain in the first eight months of this year totaled $1.56 billion.

Even if the gold inflow were continued in the final three months of 1965, the gain could not make a dent in this year's loss. The U. S. gold supply at the end of September totaled $13.9 billion, sharply below the $15.6 billion the year before.

Surprisingly, the September increase was attributed to Russia's sale of gold in Europe to pay for Canadian wheat. This gold eventually turned up in the London Gold Pool which is shared by eight nations, including the United States.

But while Russia contributed, France took, As Gen. de Gaulle threatened last winter, France continues to exchange its surplus dollars for U. S. gold every month. Sometimes it is difficult to tell friend from foe.

Things We Can Do Without

By Hal Boyle

NEW YORK (AP)—Things we could do without:

Young men who look like they're wearing a nest of robins in their hair.

Discotheque dancers who twitch like they had the itch, or were trying to run a 190-yard race on a pogo stick.

Any new kinds of dog foods, deodorants or dandruff cures.

Christmas cards that depict pretty girls in a Santa Claus suit, or Santa himself in a bathing suit chasing a beach maid wearing a bikini.

NEW YORK (AP) — Some day the American homemaker may shop for the family dinner two years ahead of time and file it in a cabinet.

Food technologists are refining processes such as freeze-drying so that well-flavored instant steaks, seafood and poultry in packages can be stored indefinitely, without refrigeration.

Campers, hunters, fishermen and mountain climbers have been eating freeze-dried foods for years. But only recently have such foods moved into kitchens.

The biggest push this year has been on breakfast cereals containing freeze-dried blueberries, strawberries, apples, and now, bananas and ice cream.

Freeze-dried fruit cereals sell for 37 cents a box, compared to 25 cents for plain cereals.

"Currently, the cost of production of the freeze-dried vegetables and fruits now available is well beyond that which would be acceptable to a broad range of customers," says Arthur E. Larkin Jr., executive vice president of General Foods Corp. But he added: "The freeze-dry technique promises eventually to provide products at reasonable prices."

Kermit Bird, a U.S. Department of Agriculture economist, estimated 5.6 million pounds of food were freeze-dried in 1962, 11.3 million in 1963 and 25 million last year.

The total will reach 317 million pounds by 1970, he predicted.

Already, the freeze-dried products include coffee, chives, parsley, pepper, asparagus, orange juice, macaroni, rice, mushrooms, apples, pineapples, fruit salad, ham patties, pork chops, beef steak, pot roast, chicken stew, shrimp, scrambled eggs, and omelets.

They are used extensively by astronauts and the armed forces.

The Army used dried foods during World War II, but they had an off-flavor, caused by the heat-drying process. Then scientists adapted the freeze-drying process that had been used to produce blood plasma.

I and my fellow servicemen here in Viet Nam would like to salute you and your associates.

Without you, our stories and feelings of this war could not be brought out. The true story and reasons for the conflict would be held in the dark. And the misguided fanatics who oppose the fighting here so strongly would have the true American in the dark.

But with your help, we are showing all nations that this war, even though fought in Viet Nam today, is a war which will keep free nations free of communist aggression in years to come.

We here, along with our loved ones and fellow countrymen, pray to God this war will end soon and that peace once again will rule the world over. Then we once again can return home to a free, independent nation.

Speaking of YOUR HEALTH...

By LESTER L. COLEMAN, M.D.

I am the mother of two children, 5 and 3. They were born without great difficulty. Now I am three months pregnant again and am outwardly happy about becoming a mother for the third time. I said "outwardly", but deep within me I am terrified. I am afraid I will not survive. I am afraid my child will not be a completely healthy one. How can I and other mothers be helped during this difficult period?

Mrs. L.O.D., Kansas

Dear Mrs. D.: It is indeed unpleasant that such a happy period in your life should be marred by unnecessary fears and anxieties about a normal pregnancy.

Your emotional distress is not so uncommon that it can be overlooked or disregarded. Many readers who have written about their own anxieties later write again to say how unwarranted were their fears after the pregnancy was complete.

You have given birth to two normal children without unusual difficulty. What should this mean to you? It should mean that the anatomical make-up of your pelvis is normal and that, barring any unusual complication, your next child too will be born in an uncomplicated way.

You are afraid you will not survive? You are afraid that your child will not be completely healthy?

Perhaps the major fear of expectant mothers is that they will die during the period of labor. There are others such as: will I suffer as much as my friends say I will? Will I get to the hospital on time? Will the doctor be there when I get there? Will the anesthesia harm the baby? Will I change physically and become less attractive to my husband afterward? Will I be a good mother?

Your physician is the real source of security during the entire pregnancy period. With anatomical charts and teaching you can learn the entire process of childbirth, and be alleviated of all the fears that have been growing during this pregnancy.

Women, adult enough to become mothers, should also know that childbirth is not a gamble against odds.

Your deep-rooted fears have probably been lying quietly within you only to be brought to the surface by the special circumstance of pregnancy.

If your fears cannot be alleviated by the kind, understanding patience of your doctor, he might even suggest a frank discussion with a psychiatrist, psychologist or guidance counselor.

The end result will be that you will benefit not only during your pregnancy, but will carry these benefits into the emotionally healthy structure of your entire family.

What Are Tea Leaves Saying? By John Chamberlain

The punditing on the basis of the November 2 elections, as revealed over the past week, shows bewilderment more than anything else. New York City, so it has been said, wants a "change." So the voters set up Democratic watchdogs in the City Council and the Board of Estimate to make things difficult for John Lindsay, the new Republican - Liberal Mayor. What New York asks for, then, is an obstacle race. The election of an obstacle running as a Republican to the district attorneyship in Philadelphia, and the choice of Republican mayors in Waterbury and New Britain, Connecticut, offer proof to some pundits that if Washington can't bring the Great Society to the cities the Democrats will have to reckon with a succession of Left - wing Republican mayors. This could hardly be the past elections happen, prove it.

The trouble with reading nationally valid patterns into the scattered elections of November 2 is that nobody has the requisite information needed to make any firm judgments.

For example: why did many of the small - town and suburban areas swing back to Republicanism after the experience of the Goldwater debacle of 1964? Does this prove anything that can be related to the Left - Right punditral spectrum? It could merely mean that suburbanites will vote Republican when the question of "trigger - happiness" is not raised in a campaign.

To state the matter positively, the main qualification for a Presidential candidate in any prosperous year could be his reputation for being a safe and canny man on foreign affairs issues. The pollsters had better get busy in this area, for the suburbs could be the key to big party shifts in 1966 and 1968.

The two Connecticut cities of Waterbury and New Britain proves little about Great Society expectations and a lot about political feuding. In Waterbury three Democratic factions may have cut each other up in sub rosa fashion, thus allowing a Republican to sneak in with local newspaper support.

Democratic feuding also helped Republicans in New Britain. In a third Connecticut city, New Haven, where Democrat Dick Lee won handily, it was the Republicans who were doing the pre-election day feuding. Lee probably would have won against anyone, for urban renewal has delivered some handsome new buildings to his city — and Republican businessmen who have been forced to the suburbs by the difficulty of making a living in the town are now voting in the country residential areas adjacent to the new out-of-town shopping centers.

The New York City picture is has been made of the possibility that the Conservative Party candidate, William Buckley, who is both Irish and Roman Catholic, took enough Democratic votes away from Abe Beame to elect John Lindsay. But many of the votes that Buckley picked up in this way might have represented abstentions sparked by the police civilian review board issue if the Conservative Party had not entered the contest. To the extent that Democratic voters for Buckley might have been Democratic stay-at-homes under other circumstances, the Conservative push neither helped nor hurt Lindsay get his victory spread.

Buckley's effect on the Negro voting pattern could have been something else again. U.S. Congressional Representative Adam Clayton Powell, a big power among the Negroes and Puerto Ricans, came out for Beame. Nevertheless John Lindsay got as high as forty per cent of the vote in some Negro districts. Certainly he gained some of his strength among the Negroes because of the force of his own campaigning. But how many Negroes had their faith in Adam Clayton Powell shaken by William Buckley's relentless attacks on Powell as a "rascal"? Buckley was at this night and day, mixing his stinging remarks about Powell with praise for the "courage" of those Negroes who dared oppose the controversial Harlem Baptist minister. Buckley, of course, was hardly in a position to attract a big Negro vote for himself. But the cogency of his anti - Powell campaign could have deflected some crucial Negro votes to Lindsay.

We need more light on questions such as this. Won't the pollsters and subliminal analysts get busy?

Reverse Trickle

Although the $10 million in gold gained by the United States in September was small, it was nonetheless gratifying because it reversed monthly losses that had gone uninterrupted since Aug. 1964. The drain in the first eight months of this year totaled $1.56 billion.

Even if the gold inflow were continued in the final three months of 1965, the gain could not make a dent in this year's loss. The U. S. gold supply at the end of September totaled $13.9 billion.

Things We Can Do Without

NEW YORK (AP)—Things we could do without:

Young men who look like they're wearing a nest of robins in their hair.

Discotheque dancers who twitch like they had the itch, or were trying to run a 100-yard race on a pogo stick.

Any new kinds of dog foods, deodorants or dandruff cures.

Christmas cards that depict pretty girls in a Santa Claus suit, or Santa himself in a bathing suit chasing a beach maid wearing a bikini.

Any more books by doctors or marriage counselors on what to do about sex. All the possibilities of sex have been pointed out by eminent authorities many times already. What civilization needs is more good cook books and fewer manuals on sex, as lion, sharply below the $15.6 billion the year before.

Surprisingly, the September increase was attributed to Russia's sale of gold in Europe to pay for Canadian wheat. This gold eventually turned up in the London Gold Pool which is shared by eight nations, including the United States.

But while Russia contributed, France took. As Gen. de Gaulle threatened last winter, France continues to exchange its surplus dollars for U. S. gold every month. Sometimes it is difficult to tell friend from foe.

TODAY In History

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Today is Tuesday, Nov. 16, the 320th day of 1965. There are 45 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history:

On this date in 1933, the United States recognized Soviet Russia for the first time.

In 1776, the British captured Ft. Washington, in what is now Upper Manhattan.

In 1907, Oklahoma was admitted to the Union.

In 1944, six Allied armies began an offensive in France, Germany and the Netherlands.

In 1945, Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower said a merger of the armed forces would heighten the safety of the country and also would save money.

Ten years ago—Egypt extended its blockade of Israel to within a mile and a half of the Israeli port of Elat on the Gulf of Aqaba, cutting off shipments to and from the East.

Five years ago — President Dwight D. Eisenhower ordered U.S. Navy units to patrol Central American waters to bar any attack on Guatemala or Nicaragua.

One year ago—Seventeen nations met in Geneva to negotiate on tariffs.

Seeing-Eye Dog Blind, Still Taken for Walks

PORTLAND, Maine (AP) — Penny, a seeing-eye dog, can no longer guide her master, Wilfred D. Thibault. She has grown blind too.

Reversing their respective roles, Thibault has been taking Penny for walks, tapping the way with a cane.

"I felt I could at least do as much for her as she has done for me," he said.

Politically-Minded Actress Shuns Race for Any Office

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Here's one political-minded star who isn't thinking of running for office: Janet Leigh.

George Murphy danced his way to the United States Senate. Ronald Reagan is casting his eyes at the governorship of California. Wendell Corey is a member of the Santa Monica City Council. Steve Allen announced he was running for Congress — but couldn't qualify.

With this and other political action among actors, it seemed possible that Miss Leigh might seek elective office. After all, she is a veteran campaigner and member of two government bodies.

The possibilities are enormous: the candidate kissing bald heads instead of babies, campaigning in a leotard — every speech would be a whistle stop. "Vote for Janet — she's out of this planet!"

The actress put a halt to such conjecture.

"Me run for office? No chance," she stated flatly.

"It would end my amateur standing. Now when I talk to gatherings about public issues, they believe me, because they know that there's nothing in it for me. But if I were to run for office, my motives would be suspect."

Miss Leigh has done some touring of foreign lands for the State Department, and her service led to appointment to the Peace Corps Advisory Council. Along with other Americans from all walks of life, she attends meetings periodically to discuss problems confronting the corps and advise of policy.

"Then we pursue whatever aspect of the corps we are interested in," she explained. "I felt I could do some good in recruiting, and so I have made appearances at colleges. I also have been concerned with educational television in Colombia."

Her activity in state political matters also led to her appointment by Gov. Edmund G. Brown to the State Recreation Commission.

Miss Leigh is not so stimulated by public affairs that she is giving up her career. She is currently costarring with Jerry Lewis in the madcap's first adventure away from Paramount: "Three on a Couch," filmed at Columbia. She also will be hostess for a Hollywood Palace show on Nov. 27.

She admitted that politics hold a great deal of interest for her.

"I think it's a good sign when actors can be seriously considered for political office. That indicates the public is more mature than the times when the misdeeds of one actor would cause all of us to be labeled as immoral."

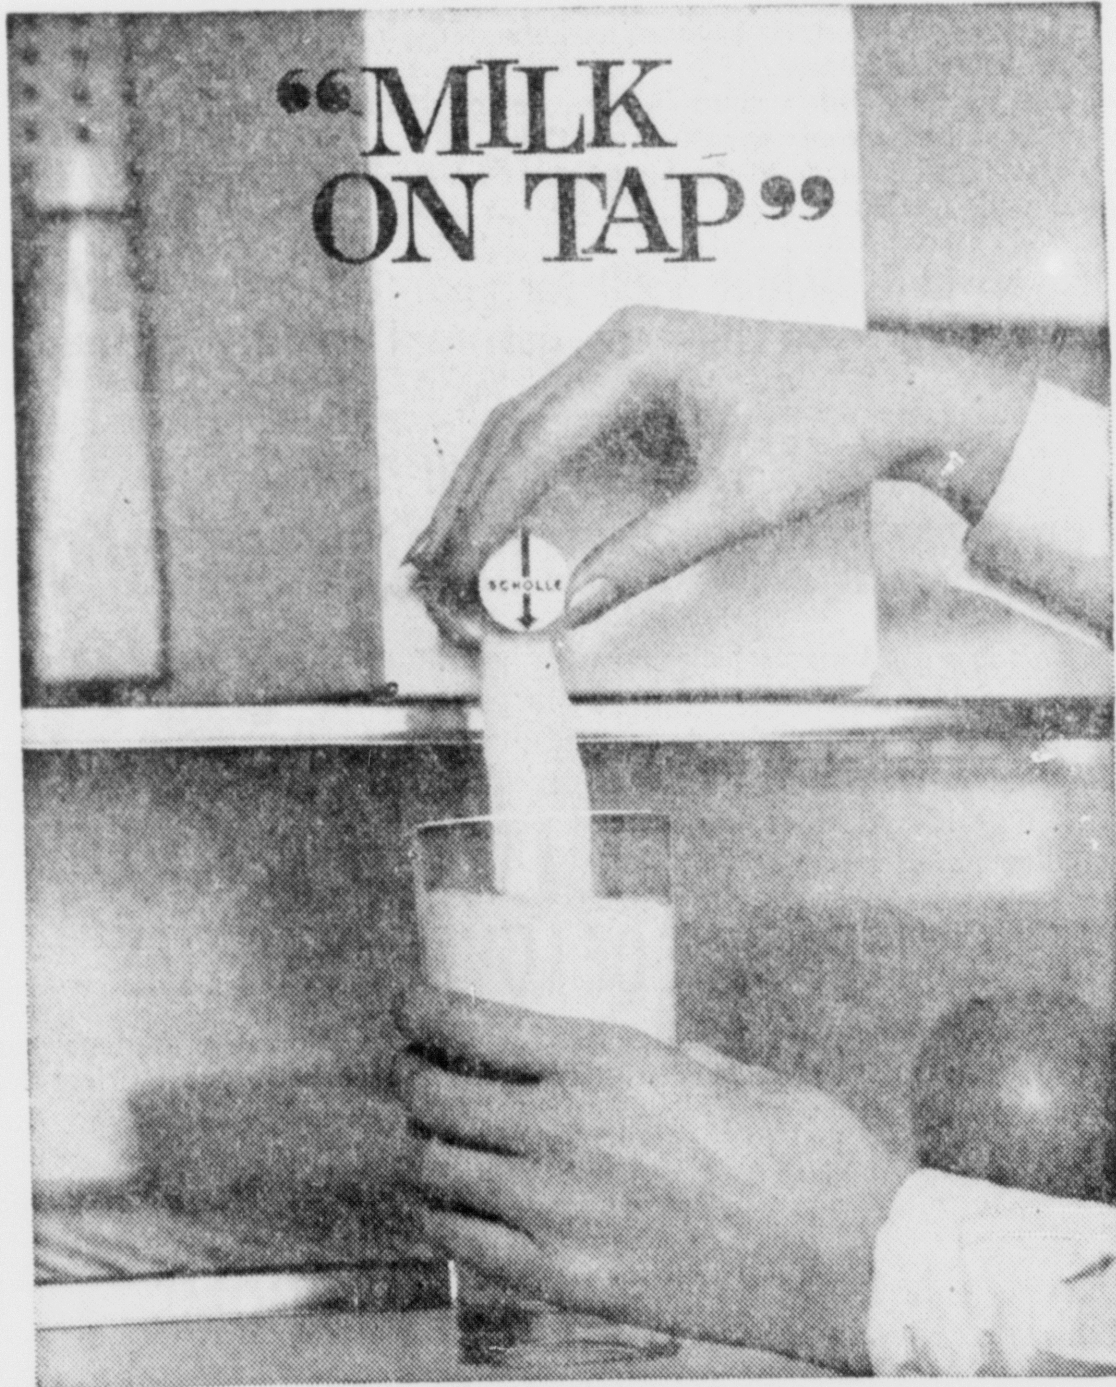

Judy Garland Weds Travel Companion

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP) — Judy Garland was married Sunday to actor Mark Herron, her one-time traveling companion.

She and Herron traveled in the Far East last year and Herron announced later they had been married in a Chinese ceremony. However, Miss Garland and her lawyer issued a denial, saying her divorce from Sid Luft was not final.

Miss Garland was divorced from Luft, her third husband, last May 19.

TODAY In History

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Today is Tuesday, Nov. 16, the 320th day of 1965. There are 45 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history:
On this date in 1933, the United States recognized Soviet Russia for the first time.

In 1776, the British captured Ft. Washington, in what is now Upper Manhattan.

In 1907, Oklahoma was admitted to the Union.

In 1944, six Allied armies began an offensive in France, Germany and the Netherlands.

In 1945, Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower said a merger of the armed forces would heighten the safety of the country and also would save money.

Ten years ago—Egypt extended its blockade of Israel to within a mile and a half of the Israeli port of Elat on the Gulf of Aqaba, cutting off shipments to and from the East.

Five years ago — President Dwight D. Eisenhower ordered U.S. Navy units to patrol Central American waters to bar any attack on Guatemala or Nicaragua.

One year ago—Seventeen nations met in Geneva to negotiate on tariffs.

Seeing-Eye Dog Blind, Still Taken for Walks

PORTLAND, Maine (AP) — Penny, a seeing-eye dog, can no longer guide her master, Wilfred D. Thibault. She has grown blind too.

Reversing their respective roles, Thibault has been taking Penny for walks, tapping the way with a cane.

"I felt I could at least do as much for her as she has done for me," he said.

Politically-Minded Actress Shuns Race for Any Office

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Here's one political-minded star who isn't thinking of running for office: Janet Leigh.

George Murphy danced his way to the United States Senate. Ronald Reagan is casting his eyes at the governorship of California. Wendell Corey is a member of the Santa Monica City Council. Steve Allen announced he was running for Congress — but couldn't qualify.

With this and other political action among actors, it seemed possible that Miss Leigh might seek elective office. After all, she is a veteran campaigner and member of two government bodies.

The possibilities are enormous: the candidate kissing bald heads instead of babies, campaigning in a leopard — every speech would be a whistle stop. "Vote for Janet — she's out of this planet!"

The actress put a halt to such conjecture.

"Me run for office? No chance," she stated flatly.

"It would end my amateur standing. Now when I talk to gatherings about public issues, they believe me, because they know that there's nothing in it for me. But if I were to run for office, my motives would be suspect."

Miss Leigh has done some touring of foreign lands for the State Department, and her service led to appointment to the Peace Corps Advisory Council. Along with other Americans from all walks of life, she attends meetings periodically to discuss problems confronting the corps and advise of policy.

"Then we pursue whatever aspect of the corps we are interested in," she explained. "I felt I could do some good in recruiting, and so I have made appearances at colleges. I also have been concerned with educational television in Colombia."

Her activity in state political matters also led to her appointment by Gov. Edmund G. Brown to the State Recreation Commission.

Kilgallen
Death Cause
Is Studied

NEW YORK (AP) — An assistant medical examiner reports that a moderate mixture of alcohol and barbiturates caused the death of Dorothy Kilgallen, 52, Broadway columnist and television panelist.

Dr. James Luke said in his report Monday that the circumstances of death were "indecisive" and he did not rule on whether the death was accidental or suicide.

Miss Kilgallen was found dead in bed in her apartment a week ago Monday. A preliminary autopsy ruled out a heart attack but did not reveal the cause of death.

After further tests, Luke said Miss Kilgallen died of "acute ethanol (alcohol) and barbiturate intoxication." The quantities of alcohol and barbiturates in the bloodstream were not excessive, he said, but the combination caused a fatal "depression on the general nervous system."

Jury Unable To Agree on Boy's Fate

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — A jury deadlocked over whether a 15-year-old boy who admitted killing a man during a robbery should get the death penalty, and the case will have to be retried.

The six-man, six-woman jury in Franklin County Criminal Court gave up Monday night after deliberating from about noon in the first-degree murder trial of Charles Fulton, now 16.

The panel told Judge Robert E. Leach it had found Fulton guilty of a companion charge of armed robbery but had no chance of agreeing on the murder charge.

Fulton, of Columbus, is accused of fatally shooting Richard Vice, 21, during a holdup of a shoe store. Last Jan. 25, another clerk in the shoe store was badly wounded.

Prosecutor C. Howard Johnson, asking the ultimate penalty, termed the killing "vicious, heartless and ruthless."

The defense countered that Fulton was a victim of society, a hapless product of a broken home talked into the robbery by evil acquaintances. Besides, the defense contended, the fatal shots were fired accidentally when the victim made a grab for the youth.

Dear Abby: By Abigail Van Buren

Pros and Cons!

DEAR ABBY: When you suggested that asking students to make a family tree was an "invasion of privacy," I think you went too far. As a teacher who has taught in the public school system of Nebraska for over 25 years, I can tell you that this is a common assignment. In the first place, it is for the enlightenment of the student, not the teacher. No teacher would ask her students to make a family tree because she was curious about their family backgrounds. Knowledge of one's ancestors improves our knowledge of history, geography, biology, sociology, the arts, and I can't think of any subject (save math) that doesn't relate to genealogy. I think you owe that teacher an apology.

TEACHER IN NEBRASKA

DEAR ABBY: I usually see eye to eye with you, but not on your reply to "IRATE MOTHER," who thought her daughter's assignment to make a family tree was none of the teacher's business. I have taught school for almost 20 years, and I have never heard of such an assignment being given. However, it sounds like an excellent way to encourage children to take an interest in their ancestors, and to link themselves realistically to history. Thank you for the idea!

ALBUQUERQUE TEACHER

DEAR ABBY: I am a school teacher who would like to shake your hand for siding with "IRATE MOTHER." She objected to a teacher's "family tree" assignment. The teacher requested such specific information as "religion, occupation," etc. Ancestor hunting may be "fun" for some youngsters, but what about the many ADOPTED children who don't even know who their "real" parents are? In my class I have a boy whose grandfather died in prison, and his father is serving a life sentence. Also a pair of twin girls who have no father because he deserted their mother before they were born. Those who are interested in becoming acquainted with their ancestors can initiate the investigation through a genealogist, and do with the findings whatever they please. But to embarrass eighth graders by asking them to dig up information which is, in some cases, better off buried, is in my judgment, unfair, unethical and unkind.

A TEACHER IN DULUTH

DEAR ABBY: In my opinion, the only person who has the right to drag skeletons out of the closet and present them to the classroom is my anatomy professor. Thank you.

STUDENT AT OREGON

DEAR ABBY: I am one mother who is anything but "irate" with a school teacher for giving my son the assignment of making a "family tree." We didn't know much about our ancestors, so we wrote to our relatives around the country, asking them to search in old trunks for helpful information. What came out of it was positively thrilling. Imagine how tickled I was when I learned that I was eligible to join the D.A.R.! Sign me....

Views on TV - Radio

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Television-Radio Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — Another victim of the ratings game quietly bit the television dust Monday. It will be mourned, partly for what it tried to bring to television but mostly for what will take its place.

The program scheduled for extinction is a high-minded interview show, ABC's "The Young Set." At an hour — 11 a.m. EST to noon — when the two rival networks are filled with soap opera and reruns of old Dick Van Dyke and Andy Griffith Show, Moderator Phyllis Kirk tried valiantly and often successfully to provide intelligent opinion and stimulating conversation.

Miss Kirk, whose television comedy series, "The Thin Man" is still playing around the country, brought together specialists and personalities ranging from dog trainers to Dick Gregory. This reporter once tuned in on a session in which a Protestant Episcopal bishop, a Catholic priest and an agnostic were in civilized and enlightening conversation.

"The Young Set" dies Dec. 17 and on Dec. 20 will be replaced by two half-hour game shows.

One, called "Supermarket Sweepstakes," will feature women bidding on items in stores. The winners will then be turned loose in a self-service store to scoop up as much merchandise as possible within a time limit.

The second, "Dating Game," will present eligible spinsters and bachelors after some sort of a computerized selection process.

CBS' "What's My Line?" producers have no immediate plans to replace the late Dorothy Kilgallen on the panel. For the next few weeks, at least, her spot will be filled by what producers Goodson and Todman call "members of the G-T family" — Betty White, Peggy Cass, Kitty Carlisle and Bess Myerson among them.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Another serviceman with Ohio next-of-kin is on the latest Viet Nam killed-in-action list, raising the state's total to 38. The Ohioan on Monday's Defense Department list was Pfc. Mariner Patrick, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Pugh of Lima.

Sunken Cruise Ship Aide Still Haunted, Can't Sleep

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Third engineer Harry Soprios of the cruise ship Yarmouth Castle hasn't slept for two nights — and he is wondering if he will in the weeks ahead.

His new assignment: crew member on the Yarmouth, sister ship of the Yarmouth Castle. "I don't know if I will ever erase the memory of those flames," he said.

Soprios, 42, interviewed in Nassau, leaves the Bahamas today aboard the Yarmouth.

Eighty-one passengers and two crewmen are believed to have perished when the Yarmouth Castle went down Saturday off Great Stirrup Cay, about 60 miles northwest of Nassau.

Passenger Norman Lehr of Miami Beach died of burns in a Nassau hospital. His body will be flown to Miami in a private plane.

Many survivors said there was no warning as fire swept the ship, that the water sprinkler system didn't work, fire hoses lay unused on the deck, and that only 4 of 14 lifeboats were lowered.

Capt. V. G. Niebergall, head of the 7th Coast Guard District's Merchant Marine Safety Division, said the finding of a preliminary investigation disputed complaints from survivors that the Yarmouth Castle was poorly equipped to cope with the emergency.

"Three weeks before the Yarmouth Castle sailed, we held a fire drill aboard the ship in accordance with the international convention for safety of ships at sea," Niebergall said. "It was in compliance with the international regulations."

"International convention allows one half hour to get lifeboats into the water. This ship got its boats into the water in eight minutes."

Niebergall said testimony from crewmen indicated that the sprinkler system and other safety devices worked satisfactorily.

The Yarmouth Castle was carrying 550 passengers and crew.

Man Is Held In Slaying Of Teacher

CINCINNATI (AP) — Police have charged a hospital window washer in the slaying of a school teacher who was beaten to death with a large, blue vase in her basement apartment.

Officers said an attempt also was made to suffocate the teacher's 9-year-old daughter.

The body of the teacher, Mrs. Emma Meadows, 37, was found Monday on the floor of her kitchen. Her daughter, Ivy Dorcas, who also was stabbed twice and suffered other cuts and bruises, was in fair condition in a hospital.

Arrested at his job at Good Samaritan Hospital was Ernest Leon Gray, 26, who was charged with first degree murder and cutting with intent to kill.

Police said Gray could not explain his actions. He said he had met Mrs. Meadows through friends last summer. Mrs. Meadows, a divorcee, had taught first grade the last five years at Swifton Primary School.

The daughter said Gray came to the apartment about 2 a.m. and her mother let him in and he started beating her, police said.

The girl said the man then tried to suffocate her with a pillow taken from a couch. She was knocked unconscious and did not waken until five hours later, police said.

The girl then called an aunt and police were summoned.

NEW YORK (AP) — Another victim of the ratings game quietly bit the television dust Monday. It will be mourned, partly for what it tried to bring to television but mostly for what it will take its place.

The program scheduled for extinction is a high-minded interview show, ABC's "The Young Set." At an hour — 11 a.m. EST to noon — when the two rival networks are filled with soap opera and reruns of old Dick Van Dyke and Andy Griffith Show, Moderator Phyllis Kirk tried valiantly and often successfully to provide intelligent opinion and stimulating conversation.

Miss Kirk, whose television comedy series, "The Thin Man" is still playing around the country, brought together specialists and personalities ranging from dog trainers to Dick Gregory. This reporter once tuned in on a session in which a Protestant Episcopal bishop, a Catholic priest and an agnostic were in civilized and enlightening conversation.

"The Young Set" dies Dec. 17 and on Dec. 20 will be replaced by two half-hour game shows. One, called "Supermarket Sweepstakes," will feature women bidding on items in stores. The winners will then be turned loose in a self-service store to scoop up as much merchandise as possible within a time limit.

The second, "Dating Game," will present eligible spinsters and bachelors after some sort of a computerized selection process.

CBS' "What's My Line?" producers have no immediate plans to replace the late Dorothy Kilgallen on the panel. For the next few weeks, at least, her spot will be filled by what producers Goodson and Todman call "members of the G-T family" — Betty White, Peggy Cass, Kitty Carlisle and Bess Myerson among them.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Another serviceman with Ohio next-of-kin is on the latest Viet Nam killed-in-action list, raising the state's total to 38. The Ohioan on Monday's Defense Department list was Pfc. Mariner Patrick, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Pugh of Lima.

Sunken Cruise Ship Aide Still Haunted, Can't Sleep

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Third engineer Harry Sopiros of the cruise ship Yarmouth Castle hasn't slept for two nights — and he is wondering if he will in the weeks ahead.

His new assignment: crew member on the Yarmouth, sister ship of the Yarmouth Castle.

"I don't know if I will ever erase the memory of those flames," he said.

Sopiros, 42, interviewed in Nassau, leaves the Bahamas today aboard the Yarmouth.

Man Is Held In Slaying Of Teacher

CINCINNATI (AP) — Police have charged a hospital window washer in the slaying of a school teacher who was beaten to death with a large, blue vase in her basement apartment.

Officers said an attempt also was made to suffocate the teacher's 9-year-old daughter.

The body of the teacher, Mrs. Emma Meadows, 37, was found Monday on the floor of her kitchen. Her daughter, Ivy Dorsa, who also was stabbed twice and suffered other cuts and bruises, was in fair condition in a hospital.

Arrested at his job at Good Samaritan Hospital was Ernest Leon Gray, 26, who was charged with first degree murder and cutting with intent to kill.

Police said Gray could not explain his actions. He said he had met Mrs. Meadows through friends last summer. Mrs. Meadows, a divorcee, had taught first grade the last five years at Swifton Primary School.

The daughter said Gray came to the apartment about 2 a.m. and her mother let him in and he started beating her, police said.

The girl said the man then tried to suffocate her with a pillow taken from a couch. She was knocked unconscious and did not waken until five hours later, police said.

The girl then called an aunt and police were summoned.

Eighty-one passengers and two crewmen are believed to have perished when the Yarmouth Castle went down Saturday off Great Stirrup Cay, about 60 miles northwest of Nassau.

Passenger Norman Lehr of Miami Beach died of burns in a Nassau hospital. His body will be flown to Miami in a private plane.

Many survivors said there was no warning as fire swept the ship, that the water sprinkler system didn't work, fire hoses lay unused on the deck, and that only 4 of 14 lifeboats were lowered.

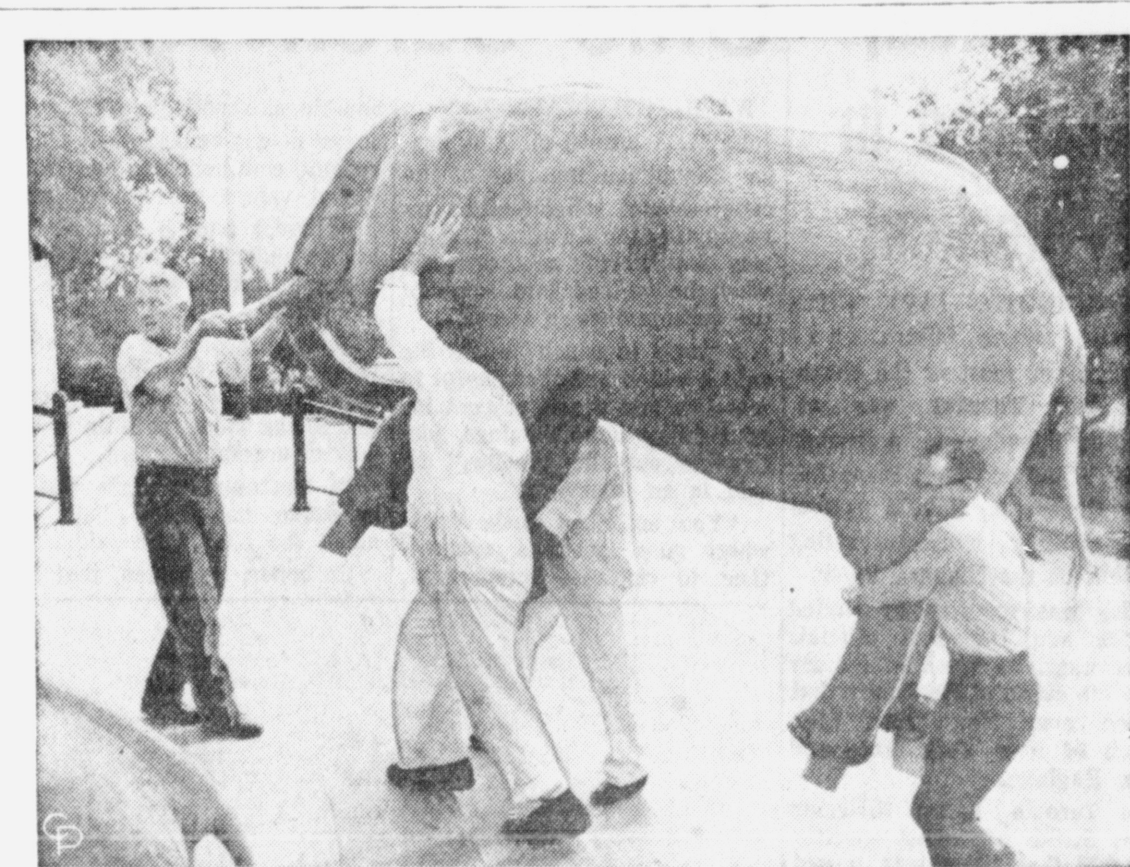

Capt. V. G. Niebergall, head of the 7th Coast Guard District's Merchant Marine Safety Division, said the finding of a preliminary investigation disputed complaints from survivors that the Yarmouth Castle was poorly equipped to cope with the emergency.

"Three weeks before the Yarmouth Castle sailed, we held a fire drill aboard the ship in accordance with the international convention for safety of ships at sea," Niebergall said. "It was in compliance with the international regulations."

"International convention allows one half hour to get lifeboats into the water. This ship got its boats into the water in eight minutes."

Niebergall said testimony from crewmen indicated that the sprinkler system and other safety devices worked satisfactorily.

The Yarmouth Castle was carrying 550 passengers and crew.

BIG GAME—Passersby in Los Angeles get their eyes bugged out on seeing these men carrying this elephant—but it's a stuffed one, for the city's museum. It was killed in Africa and stuffed in Hudson, N.Y., then shipped to its final resting place.

Faulty Relay Is Blamed in NE Blackout

WASHINGTON (AP)—The massive power failure that blacked out most of the Northeast last Tuesday was attributed Monday to a broken relay at Adam Beck Plant No. 2 at Queenston, Ont., a part of the Ontario hydro-generating system on the Niagara River.

This was reported by United States and Canadian officials after nearly a week of inquiry into the cause of the failure that rolled over New York City, much of New York State and New England.

In Toronto, hydro chairman Ross Strike was most specific. He said the failure was caused by a broken relay at the Sir Adam Beck Plant No. 2 at Queenston, Ont.

Strike told a news conference hydro was importing a total of 1.6 million kilowatts in power on the six lines going into the plant and the relay break caused all other relays to go out.

The 1.6 million kilowatts were thrown onto the U.S. distribution facilities, causing a very rapid increase in frequency, Strike added. He said this tripped safety equipment but all of it didn't work and the Northeastern states and New York City were most badly hit by this surge of power.

Chairman Joseph C. Swidler of the Federal Power Commission said today that beginning of the power failure "seems to have occurred in the Ontario hydro-generating plants on the Niagara River."

He said this "resulted in a major inrush of power into the upstate New York systems . . .

"There followed a series of trip-outs of transmission lines and generating plants of these systems," Swidler added.

His report was made in a statement he said had been sent today to the White House and to Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara and Buford Ellington, director of the Office of Emergency Planning.

The series of "trip-outs" Swidler said "resulted in the transfer of a large block of load to the New England and southern New York systems, including the New York City system."

Swidler said that the commission is continuing its investigation of the reasons why the power failure spread through so many northeastern power systems "and will suggest measures to minimize the possibility of a recurrence."

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Bob Hope, who never has won an acting Oscar, got an Oscar of sorts Sunday from actors.

The award is an onyx and bronze version of the ancient Grecian masks of comedy and tragedy.

Meanwhile, military officials in Bangkok said Hope will visit Thailand and Viet Nam next month to entertain U.S. troops during Christmas.

Erhard Visit to LBJ Changed to Dec. 3-4

WASHINGTON (AP) — The dates for West German Chancellor Ludwig Erhard's visit to President Johnson have been changed from Dec. 6-8 to Dec. 3-4, the White House announced today.

Erhard reportedly wanted the dates changed so he could be back in Bonn to deal with parliamentary matters on the days first set for his visit.

There still has been no announcement where the two will meet.

Ohio Solon Amazed by Klan's Philosophy

WASHINGTON (AP)—To Rep. John M. Ashbrook of Ohio, senior Republican member of the congressional subcommittee investigating the Ku Klux Klan, it was like entering another world when he walked into some of the subcommittee's sessions.

A world in which "all of the values which are meaningful to me—law and order, respect for your fellow human beings, justice—go out the window," he said in an interview.

"You enter an eerie world where guns, beatings, exhortations to violence, hate, arson, bombings, shootings, blacklists, sugar in gas tanks, night rides become commonplace and traditional values are scoffed at."

Ashbrook said it is hard for him to understand how the Klan has gained such an influence in the south.

It is a group he said, that lacks good leadership, its members total only 10,000 to 15,000, and it has shown so little in the way of accomplishment.

"I can only conclude that a mystique has been built up about the Klan," he said.

He hopes, he added, that the investigation will expose the absolute nature of the Klan which, he said, is over-rated has poor leadership "and is nothing to be feared."

The subcommittee, a group from the House Committee on Un-American Activities, has recessed the inquiry until early next year.

"We opened up so much information, we need time to develop it," Ashbrook said. "We have to do our advance work well or we will be accused of a 'fishing expedition,' and of harassing people. We have opened up hundreds of bank accounts by Klan officials which have to be studied."

Asked what the inquiry hoped to accomplish, Ashbrook said it is directed toward recommending legislation to "deal with a conspiracy of this type which is directed toward denying the people of their civil rights. I think it is a secret conspiracy which is denying Negroes their civil rights."

He was impressed at the hearings, Ashbrook said, with the terrorism to which the Klan is committed.

"It is a terrorist organization," he said. "It is responsible for many acts of violence. It whips up hatred when there is need for calm in race relations."

"The Klan is absolutely the best instrument that Dr. Martin Luther King and others in the civil rights movement have of achieving the objectives they have—many of which I have opposed in the past and do object to."

An example of the things to which he objects in the civil rights movement, he said, is the transportation of children to schools distant from their homes.

Ashbrook said he has received a lot of "hate" mail as a result of the Klan investigation, from people in Ohio as well as in the south.

2 Vikings Named To SSL All-Loop Football Team

South Suburban League football coaches last night named a one unit, 11-man All-Star football team. They selected players for their overall ability rather than position played.

John Smith, Teays Valley senior, was one of three full-backs selected by the coaches. John Little, another Viking senior, was the only end picked by the mentors.

Other members of the team are:

THE honorable mention list includes Ken Baugess, Roger Walls, Jeff Coe and Marvin Roush of Pleasant View; Bill Fishinger, Dan Riehl and Pat Ryan of Franklin Heights; Jim Schumacher and Bob Rinehart of Hamilton Twp.; Dan Reed and Gerald Green of Teays Valley.

Pleasant View went through the league season undefeated. Franklin Heights finished second with a 2-1 record, Hamilton had a 1-2 league slate and

Booster Unit To Meet at Fairgrounds

Members of the Circleville High School Booster Club will meet 7:30 p. m. Wednesday at the Fairgrounds 4-H and Grange building.

The Boosters normally meet at the National Guard Armory on E. Franklin St. However, this week's session will be at the Fairgrounds in order to allow members to decorate the building and complete arrangements for Thursday night's annual Fall Sports banquet.

Mrs. Chester Iery and Mrs. Lucille Stonerock are heading the committee in charge of the banquet. Both men and women members are requested to be present Wednesday night to help with final preparations.

President Chester Iery said a regular business session also will be conducted Wednesday evening. A report will be made on the club's candy sale which is being conducted under the direction of Speeder Davis.

Teays Valley 0-3. Don Eby is coach of the Pleasant View squad.

Principal speaker last night was Dr. Chalmers Hixson, of the Ohio State University Department of Physical Education.

His speech, illustrated with slides, centered around the understanding of and sportsmanship toward game officials.

This is the final season for the South Suburban League. The four current league members have realigned themselves with Whitehall and Reynoldsburg to form the Metropolitan League. A South Suburban basketball schedule will remain in effect this season. The new league will begin operation with spring sports.

Van Brocklin Quits Post With Vikings

MINNEAPOLIS-ST. PAUL (AP) — Norm Van Brocklin, whose all-consuming drive to win made it seemingly impossible for him to accept defeat, decided Monday that he could no longer stand the frustrations of losing.

He told the Minnesota Vikings he was quitting immediately as head coach, with five games of the National Football League season remaining.

The Vikings tried today to talk him out of it, but it was regarded as a less than 50-50 chance that they would have any success.

The volcanic Dutchman, who was one of professional football's greatest quarterbacks for 12 years with the Los Angeles Rams and Philadelphia Eagles, said Sunday's 41-21 Viking loss to Baltimore "was the last straw."

It lowered Minnesota's record in the Western Conference to 5-4 and virtually eliminated the Vikings as championship contenders. In 4½ years, Van Brocklin directed Minnesota to a 23-33 record, but the Vikings were regarded as a rising power and tied Green Bay for second in the West in 1964.

Five Circleville Tigers Are Named To SCO All-Star Gridiron Squad

Circleville High School placed five football players on the All-South Central Ohio League team named by the league's coaches Sunday and announced last night during an annual banquet at Washington School.

Wilmington, league champion, placed three men on the offensive team and three on the defensive unit. They are: Joe Mulford, offensive tackle; Jim Snider, offensive guard; Jack Walker, offensive center; Mark Lane, defensive end; Larry Gordley, corner back; Jim Connors, defensive halfback.

Rickey Clings to Life After Heart Attack

COLUMBIA, Mo. (AP) — Branch Rickey, 83-year-old baseball elder statesman, clung to life today in the intensive care section of Boone County Hospital where he has been in a coma since suffering a heart attack Saturday night.

The hospital reported his condition remained critical.

Rickey was stricken while making a speech accepting membership in the Missouri Sports Hall of Fame.

Glenn Dobbs, Tulsa head coach, was an outstanding pro and one of the top passers in Missouri Valley Conference history. But his son, Glenn Dobbs III, chose Tulsa because his dad hired Sammy Baugh as an assistant.

Gilechrist Eyes Chance in AFL

NEW YORK (AP) — Don't count Cookie Gilechrist out of that rushing race in the American Football League.

Although Paul Lowe of San Diego is out front with 850 yards to Cookie's 684, the Chargers have an open date Sunday while Cookie and the Denver Broncos will be at work.

As San Diego already has played 10 games and Denver has played only nine, the extra date gives Gilechrist a big chance to close the gap.

Gilechrist ran for 119 yards on 16 carries against Houston last Sunday while Lowe was held to 48 yards by Kansas City.

Despite John Hadl's troubles against the Kansas City defense, the San Diego quarterback still leads the passers in standings based on six categories.

2 Vikings Named To SSL All-Loop Football Team

South Suburban League football coaches last night named a one unit, 11-man All-Star football team. They selected players for their overall ability rather than position played.

John Smith, Teays Valley senior, was one of three fullbacks selected by the coaches. John Little, another Viking senior, was the only end picked by the mentors.

Other members of the team are:

THE honorable mention list includes Ken Baugess, Roger Walls, Jeff Coe and Marvin Roush of Pleasant View; Bill Fishinger, Dan Riehl and Pat Ryan of Franklin Heights; Jim Schumacher and Bob Rinehart of Hamilton Twp.; Dan Reed and Gerald Green of Teays Valley.

Pleasant View went through the league season undefeated. Franklin Heights finished second with a 2-1 record, Hamilton had a 1-2 league slate and

Booster Unit To Meet at Fairgrounds

Members of the Circleville High School Booster Club will meet 7:30 p. m. Wednesday at the Fairgrounds 4 H and Grange building.

The Boosters normally meet at the National Guard Armory on E. Franklin St. However, this week's session will be at the Fairgrounds in order to allow members to decorate the building and complete arrangements for Thursday night's annual Fall Sports banquet.

Mrs. Chester Iery and Mrs. Lucille Stonerock are heading the committee in charge of the banquet. Both men and women members are requested to be present Wednesday night to help with final preparations.

President Chester Iery said a regular business session also will be conducted Wednesday evening. A report will be made on the club's candy sale which is being conducted under the direction of Speeder Davis.

Teays Valley 0-3. Don Eby is coach of the Pleasant View squad.

Principal speaker last night was Dr. Chalmers Hixson, of the Ohio State University Department of Physical Education.

His speech, illustrated with slides, centered around the understanding of and sportsmanship toward game officials.

This is the final season for the South Suburban League. The four current league members have realigned themselves with Whitehall and Reynoldsburg to form the Metropolitan League. A South Suburban basketball schedule will remain in effect this season. The new league will begin operation with spring sports.

Van Brocklin Quits Post With Vikings

MINNEAPOLIS - ST. PAUL (AP) — Norm Van Brocklin, whose all-consuming drive to win made it seemingly impossible for him to accept defeat, decided Monday that he could no longer stand the frustrations of losing.

He told the Minnesota Vikings he was quitting immediately as head coach, with five games of the National Football League season remaining.

The Vikings tried today to talk him out of it, but it was regarded as a less than 50-50 chance that they would have any success.

The volcanic Dutchman, who was one of professional football's greatest quarterbacks for 12 years with the Los Angeles Rams and Philadelphia Eagles, said Sunday's 41-21 Viking loss to Baltimore "was the last straw."

It lowered Minnesota's record in the Western Conference to 5-4 and virtually eliminated the Vikings as championship contenders. In 4½ years, Van Brocklin directed Minnesota to a 23-39-3 record, but the Vikings were regarded as a rising power and tied Green Bay for second in the West in 1964.

Wilmington, league champion, placed three men on the offensive team and three on the defensive unit. They are: Joe Mulford, offensive tackle; Jim Snider, offensive guard; Jack Walker, offensive center; Mark Lane, defensive end; Larry Gordley, corner back; Jim Connors, defensive halfback.

Miami Trace gained three positions. At offensive end, the mentors named Ron Reiber; Bob Gifford, the league's leading rusher, was picked at fullback; Steve Schlichter was selected as middle guard.

Hillsboro, finishing second, with a 3-1-1 season record, matched the Hurricane of Wilmington by placing six men on the two unit all-star team.

Indians earning the coaches' nod were John Cameron, offensive end; Jack Whiting, offensive tackle; Jim Dixon, halfback; Bennie Rhoades, quarterback; Dale Martin, defensive end; Doug Wagoner, middle line backer.

Massillon Wins Ohio Grid Title For 11th Time

COLUMBUS (AP) — Massillon, traditionally a scholastic football power, locked up its 11th state high school grid championship today.

The unbeaten Stark County giant garnered 162 points from The Associated Press Selection Board in the final ratings of the season.

The Rutgers Hall of Fame Trophy goes to Coach Earle Bruce's Tigers, who beat runner-up Sandusky by 18 points. The two schools, both with perfect 10-0 records, came right down to the wire in their season-long struggle for top honors.

It was the second straight year that Massillon had captured the coveted championship.

Surging Cincinnati Moeller, also with a 10-0 record, finished third followed by Columbus Waterson, Warren Harding, Upper Arlington, Cleveland Benedictine and Steubenville (tied for 7th), Athens and Middletown.

Massillon finished its season last Saturday in exciting fashion, coming from two touchdowns behind to nip ancient rival Canton McKinley, 18-14.

Spartans Near National Grid Championship

Only Notre Dame Stands in Way of Michigan State

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Michigan State, rolling along week after week as the nation's No. 1 college football team, faces its biggest challenge in a decade Saturday against the determined legions of Notre Dame.

The game is one of three big ones on tap this weekend, each involving two members of the Top Ten and each of national importance. They are Notre Dame-Michigan State, Arkansas-Texas Tech and Southern California-UCLA.

Michigan State, returned as the nation's No. 1 team in the regular weekly Associated Press poll of sports writers and broadcasters today, is 9-0 for the season and gunning for its first national championship since 1952.

Should the Spartans beat Notre Dame in their last game of the season, the national championship is almost assured.

But Notre Dame, ranked fourth in the nation and 7-1, also has national championship aspirations and possibly could vault to the No. 1 spot with a decisive victory.

Michigan State whipped Indiana 27-13 and Notre Dame took North Carolina 17-0 last weekend.

Arkansas remained second, also at 9-0, and risks a 21 winning string against Texas Tech, which moved into the Top Ten with an 8-1 record. The winner gets the host spot in the Cotton Bowl. Tech will go to the Gator Bowl if it loses.

An Arkansas victory will give it the Southwest Conference title outright — and perhaps a shot at the national title if Michigan State should stumble. Tech gains a share of the conference crown if it wins.

Arkansas beat SMU 24-3 and Tech took Baylor 34-22 last weekend.

Southern Cal and UCLA are ranked sixth and seventh, respectively, each with a 6-1-1 record. The winner almost certainly gets the Rose Bowl spot opposite Michigan State.

Michigan State received 31 of the 48 first-place votes cast and gained 456 points on the basis of 10 for a first-place vote, nine for second, eight for third, etc.

The Top Ten with first-place votes in parentheses, season records and total points:

1. Mich. State (31) 9-0	456
2. Arkansas (15) 9-0	439
3. Nebraska (2) 9-0	378
4. Notre Dame 7-1	346
5. Alabama 7-1-1	268
6. Southern Calif. 6-1-1	226
7. UCLA 7-1-1	180
8. Missouri 6-2-1	115

Jim Brown May Remain In Football as a Coach

CLEVELAND (AP) — Will Jim Brown stay in football as a coach? Maybe.

"I've had thoughts about many jobs," Brown said. "I'm keeping an open mind. If anyone shows interest in me as a coach I certainly would consider the opportunity."

The Cleveland Browns full-back, who received a standing ovation at the weekly Touchdown Club luncheon Monday, has said he plans to play through the 1966 season, then retire.

Asked if he wanted to go on top, Brown answered, "I guess everybody feels that way. There are a lot of things involved though. I'd like to win it this year and again next year, then retire."

The Browns stand a good chance to win the Eastern Conference championship this season and defend their National Football League title. Cleveland (7-2) has a two-game edge over the St. Louis Cardinals (5-4) with five games left on the schedule.

Brown, who holds nine of 17 possible NFL rushing records and is second in four others, said he's enjoying his football now more than ever.

"I'm a free ball player able to utilize all my abilities," he said. "I like to catch the football. Now I'm being used as a receiver. I'm able to talk to (owner) Art Modell and (Coach) Blanton Collier. Even do a little coaching. I get a kick out of working with the offensive line."

Sandusky closed out an out-

Massillon, which now has completed two straight perfect seasons, held first place every week of the poll and did it the hard way, stopping three teams ranked in the top ten.

Once-beaten Warren and Benedictine lost their only games to the Tigers, and Steubenville suffered one of its two setbacks to the leaders.

In Class A competition, unbeaten Dover St. Joseph squeaked through with 107 points to edge Marion Catholic by five for top honors among the small schools.

Millersport, which finished last Friday by whipping highly regarded Lancaster Fenwick 14-0 for its 10th consecutive shut-out, climbed all the way to third on 74 points.

Rounding out the elite circle were Lake, United Hanoverton, Johnstown, Fairport Harbor, Lancaster Fenwick and Adena and Portsmouth Notre Dame, which finished tied for ninth. Here are the final Class AA ratings in The AP poll (points on a 10, 9, 8, etc. basis):

U.S. Communist Controls Hit Legal Snag

WASHINGTON (AP) — After 15 years of frustration, the government surveyed the wreckage of its Communist control law today and decided to move ahead in that field as best it can.

The Supreme Court took most of the starch out of the effort Monday. It ruled that Communist party members cannot constitutionally be forced to register with the government because of the risk of self-incrimination.

Thus in one 11-page opinion the court wiped out 43 membership cases developed after long and costly hearings by the Subversive Activities Control Board.

Sen. James O. Eastland, D-Miss., chairman of the Senate Judiciary Committee, said the decision by the high court "is not the first which has overthrown a provision of the law enacted by the Congress as protection against subversion."

"Either our government has the power to protect itself against subversion, or it faces inevitable destruction."

Eastland said in a statement he will ask his committee to meet soon after Congress reconvenes in January. He said his group will try to "plug the gaps" in the subversion laws.

"If progressive changes in constitutional interpretation by the Supreme Court have made that impossible, then it will be the duty of the Judiciary Committee to recommend an appropriate constitutional amendment," he said.

Since the opinion announced Monday by Associate Justice William J. Brennan Jr. was directed specifically at that provision of the law aimed at individual members, the Justice Department decided to continue its prosecution of the party for failure to register as a Communist front organization.

That trial is in its third week in U.S. District Court and could bring the party a $230,000 fine on conviction — which would, of course, be subject to appeal and further testing of the law. A similar appeal was successful after a 1961 conviction.

Because the party has failed to register, the responsibility for signing up falls, by law, on its officers and members.

The Subversive Activities Control Board issued registration orders, after hearings, to 44 alleged members, who appealed through the federal courts. The defendants and the government agreed that whatever the Supreme Court ruled on the cases of William Albertson and Roscoe Quincey Proctor would apply to all 41 others — one of the original 44 is dead. That's the decision that came down Monday, taking the teeth out of the

They Won't Be Forgotten

Public Requested To Provide Data On GIs Overseas

An effort has been launched here to compile the names and addresses of all servicemen from this area serving in remote places throughout the world, such as Viet Nam.

The objective is to let those serving far from home know they are not forgotten at home. It will demonstrate that the general American public is behind them, and does not encourage fringe elements opposed to the U. S. policy in South Viet Nam.

Names and addresses may be sent to The Herald, 210 N. Court St., or to Pickaway County Chapter, American Red Cross, 167 Watt St. They will be compiled and then made available for public use.

Although the Postal Department's announced deadline for regular mailing of Christmas packages overseas is past, servicemen in far away places enjoy receiving parcels from home on any date. And letters and cards are always welcome.

According to U. S. Postal authorities, mail and parcels by air should be sent between Dec.

1950 law's membership provision.

While the Justice Department made no comment about its plans, the Albertson decision was seen as seriously weakening its case against Gus Hall, who calls himself "chief spokesman" of the Communist party. Hall's trial for failure to register as a party officer has been delayed pending disposition of the party trial now under way here.

But since Brennan's opinion was aimed at protecting specifically named individuals from self-incrimination, the feeling among government legal observers was that a similar finding in regard to Hall will be virtually unavoidable.

Hall hailed the decision as "a blow against the longest legal vendetta in American history," and predicted increased Communist activity.

He told a news conference in New York: "Wherever it's possible, we're going to run Communists for public office. This is something we've always wanted to do and couldn't."

He said his party will publish a basic political program within two weeks, call its first public national convention since 1950 and take steps to enter candidates in the 1966 congressional elections.

Hall said he holds the title of "national chairman" of the party but never uses it.

1 and Dec. 10.

At present there is no list of soldiers, sailors, marines or airmen from this area who are involved in the Viet Nam conflict or stationed at other remote bases. The newspaper-Red Cross program will make every effort to establish one.

The public — and close relatives especially — is being requested to supply names and addresses. The information should include the serviceman's name and rank, home address and overseas address.

Various service clubs and church organizations here have indicated they will utilize the list and promote the serviceman remembrance endeavor.

Farm Bureau Eyes Its Role In Assembly

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — "Farm Bureau will remain an effective force" in the face of Ohio's legislative reapportionment "but it will take increased efforts to secure legislation favorable to farmers," the Ohio Farm Bureau Federation says.

The federation's Policy Committee set this forth in a preface to programs it hopes the delegates will espouse at the 47th annual convention opening here Wednesday.

The federation, with a paid membership of 52,000 farm families "or about a quarter of a million Ohio farm persons," says its legislative efforts have had significant results in the past, including the 1965 general assembly.

D. R. Stanfield, OFBF executive vice president, said Monday the organization probably won't try to go ahead on its own with its highly publicized proposal to buy a major grocery chain to bolster farm marketing.

The American Farm Bureau Federation put off the Ohio plan when it was suggested it make such a purchase on a national basis.

Features of the convention will be a speech by Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey and presentation of the Farm Bureau Federation's Distinguished Service Award to Sen. Frank J. Lausche, D-Ohio. Both events are scheduled for Thursday.

Mount Vernon Bids For Honor City Award

British Ready To Strip Rhodesia of Trade Rights

LONDON (AP)—Prime Minister Harold Wilson was expected to strip Rhodesia of its Commonwealth trading privileges today as his first action under sweeping emergency powers voted by Parliament.

Acting without a formal vote, the House of Commons and the House of Lords early today adopted emergency legislation authorizing Wilson to act by decree against the central African colony's rebellious white minority government.

All decrees take effect as soon as they are issued but expire unless approved by both houses of Parliament within 28 days.

Conservative critics argued that Wilson was getting a blank check for sanctions or any other action without parliamentary control. But they bowed to their party leadership's insistence that the government should not be opposed and that Britain should take a united stand against the Rhodesian government's unilateral declaration of independence last Thursday.

The new law gives the British government power to annul any legislation passed by the current Rhodesian Parliament, including the independence constitution proclaimed by Prime Minister Ian Smith.

It declares that Rhodesia remains a part of Her Majesty's dominions, and that the government and Parliament of the United Kingdom hold responsibility and jurisdiction for the territory.

The declaration is aimed as much at the African-Asian bloc in the United Nations as at the Rhodesian rebels. Wilson's government at this stage is set against using force to put down Smith's regime and is insisting on Rhodesia's British status to head off any attempt to stage an invasion under the U.N. flag.

The government hopes that Rhodesia's white minority will withdraw its support from Smith once sanctions begin to hit their pocketbooks.

Already the Rhodesian pound has started a drastic slide on the London money market, so drastic that the Bank of England Monday revoked all licenses to deal in it.

Groundwork Laid To Form NCHA Unit

Groundwork was laid for the formation of a local Chapter of the National Campers and Hikers Assn. during a meeting here last night.

Speaker for the evening was Jack Henson, president of the Chillicothe Chapter, NCHA. He gave a detailed explanation of the organization's purposes and goals, and the activities and benefits provided members on the local, state and national levels.

The session was attended by numerous local people, including those from different sections of the county. Several made application for membership during the meeting.

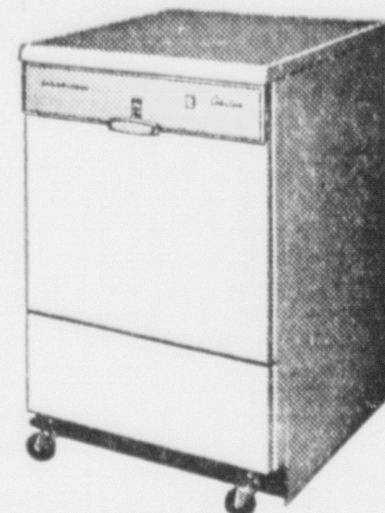

Lowell Ferguson, acting chairman, said the next meeting will be announced as soon as plans can be completed for official formation and chartering ceremonies. He can be contacted at his home for further information.

U.S. Communist Controls Hit Legal Snag

WASHINGTON (AP) — After 15 years of frustration, the government surveyed the wreckage of its Communist control law today and decided to move ahead in that field as best it can.

The Supreme Court took most of the starch out of the effort Monday. It ruled that Communist party members cannot constitutionally be forced to register with the government because of the risk of self-incrimination.

Thus in one 11-page opinion the court wiped out 43 membership cases developed after long and costly hearings by the Subversive Activities Control Board.

Sen. James O. Eastland, D-Miss., chairman of the Senate Judiciary Committee, said the decision by the high court "is not the first which has overthrown a provision of the law enacted by the Congress as protection against subversion."

"Either our government has the power to protect itself against subversion, or it faces inevitable destruction."

Eastland said in a statement he will ask his committee to meet soon after Congress reconvenes in January. He said his group will try to "plug the gaps" in the subversion laws.

"If progressive changes in constitutional interpretation by the Supreme Court have made that impossible, then it will be the duty of the Judiciary Committee to recommend an appropriate constitutional amendment," he said.

Since the opinion announced Monday by Associate Justice William J. Brennan Jr. was directed specifically at that provision of the law aimed at individual members, the Justice Department decided to continue its prosecution of the party for failure to register as a Communist front organization.

That trial is in its third week in U.S. District Court and could bring the party a $250,000 fine on conviction — which would, of course, be subject to appeal and further testing of the law. A similar appeal was successful after a 1961 conviction.

Because the party has failed to register, the responsibility for signing up falls, by law, on its officers and members.

The Subversive Activities Control Board issued registration orders, after hearings, to 44 alleged members, who appealed through the federal courts. The defendants and the government agreed that whatever the Supreme Court ruled on the cases of William Albertson and Roscoe Quincy Proctor would apply to all 41 others — one of the original 44 is dead. That's the decision that came down Monday, taking the teeth out of the

Public Requested To Provide Data On GIs Overseas

An effort has been launched here to compile the names and addresses of all servicemen from this area serving in remote places throughout the world, such as Viet Nam.

The objective is to let those serving far from home know they are not forgotten at home. It will demonstrate that the general American public is behind them, and does not encourage fringe elements opposed to the U. S. policy in South Viet Nam.

Names and addresses may be sent to The Herald, 210 N. Court St., or to Pickaway County Chapter, American Red Cross, 167 Watt St. They will be compiled and then made available for public use.

Although the Postal Department's announced deadline for regular mailing of Christmas packages overseas is past, servicemen in far away places enjoy receiving parcels from home on any date. And letters and cards are always welcome.

According to U. S. Postal authorities, mail and parcels by air should be sent between Dec.

1950 law's membership provision.

While the Justice Department made no comment about its plans, the Albertson decision was seen as seriously weakening its case against Gus Hall, who calls himself "chief spokesman" of the Communist party. Hall's trial for failure to register as a party officer has been delayed pending disposition of the party trial now under way here.

But since Brennan's opinion was aimed at protecting specifically named individuals from self-incrimination, the feeling among government legal observers was that a similar finding in regard to Hall will be virtually unavoidable.

Hall hailed the decision as "a blow against the longest legal vendetta in American history," and predicted increased Communist activity.

He told a news conference in New York: "Wherever it's possible, we're going to run Communists for public office. This is something we've always wanted to do and couldn't."

He said his party will publish a basic political program within two weeks, call its first public national convention since 1950 and take steps to enter candidates in the 1966 congressional elections.

Hall said he holds the title of "national chairman" of the party but never uses it.
